

Well, it's happened. Term 3 will be over this week and the holiday break is just around the corner! Yipee, I hear many of us say! It has been another busy term and it has gone so quickly. Lots of great learning has been going on and the students have been so engaged in efforts to achieve their potential.

We have had a couple of quiet weeks and so now all we need to do is wrap up the term with our End of Term Assembly and Boat Launch! Our public speakers are ready to present their speeches and choir, dance and band members are ready to share their talents with us. Mr Chris Haywood will be doing the honours as we officially celebrate the fantastic addition to our playground space.

On all accounts, the Spring Fair was another great success and a wonderful opportunity for the community to get together. The band, choir and dance members did themselves, and our school, proud. Well done everyone.

Today, all students will be visited by Susan Bailey, Area Manager, School Shades. One pair of sunglasses will be provided free to each child, by the P&C, in order to protect young eyes and promote eye health. Students needing to wear prescription glasses at all times, would need to obtain prescription sunglasses. This is a fabulous initiative and endorsed by health professionals.

We congratulate Debbie and David Aselford on the safe arrival of their first grandchild, Finn. All are doing well and what a joy this miracle of life is to their family.

As the school website is in the process of being updated, it may be a little more difficult to access regular features. Please bear with us. Thank you.

The school will be open during the next holidays as we participate in the DoE's Share Our Space program. A security guard will be on site from 8.00am till 5.00pm in the afternoons. We know that the community will treat the school grounds with respect and care and enjoy the fabulous spaces we have created.

If you would like any information about Special Religious Education and Primary Ethics classes, please pick up information flyers from the school office.

All for now.
